Welcome from the Headteacher

We were delighted to find out this week that Chapel Street has been chosen to receive an award as part of the Manchester Early Years Celebration Event 2026 for "Demonstrating high quality communication and language support". This is a fantastic achievement for the team and reflects the hard work of all staff to provide our children with the very best starts to their education in Nursery and Reception. We're looking forward to sharing some photos with you from the Awards Presentation in March. We had more good news when we found out that we'd been chosen to receive 99 free tickets to the pantomime at Manchester Palace Theatre this Friday. It means that every child in Year 5 will be able to attend and has even been supported with free coach travel to and from the theatre and sweets during the performance. We hope everyone had a great time and enjoyed the special experience. The Debate Mate visit this week was a huge success with the children representing school and themselves incredibly well. They made some impressive contributions and we loved seeing how confident and enthusiastic they were. We're looking forward to seeing lots of parents and carers in classrooms for our Drop-in on Monday morning - this is a lovely opportunity to see your child's work in their books and find out more about their learning this half term. They have some interesting knowledge to share with you!

Fact of the week:

Rosa Parks, a well-known activist, was born on the 4th February 1913. What did she fight to change? Challenge: Who are some other activists and the causes they support? What would you campaign to change?

Word of the week:

Deluge

What do you think it means?

How would you use it in a sentence?

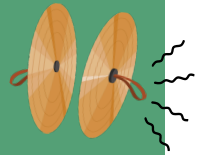

Last week's answers:

The dodo was a flightless bird, native to the island of Mauritius. It became extinct because its natural habitat was destroyed by deforestation and its eggs were being eaten by new human settlers. Many animals (47,000 species!) are at risk of extinction for similar reasons today including the Amur leopard, Northern White Rhinoceros, Sunda Pangolin and African Forest Elephant. The main threats are habitat loss through deforestation, poaching and illegal trade and climate change.

Last week's answers:

Reverberating – (adj.) echoing and vibrating.

E.g. Like crashing cymbals that shake through your whole body.

Assembly Reading...

Well done to Afifah, Christiana, and Zara in 6C who read our story to the whole school in assembly on Monday. They chose We Planted a Tree by Diane Muldrow.

We are looking to develop an 'Alumni' project to share the great successes of children who have been to Chapel Street. Anyone who used to attend Chapel Street and would like to share their experience, how it helped them and what they are doing now, please contact the office or email admin@chapelstreet.manchester.sch.uk. Everyone is welcome to get in touch – from our youngest Alumni who are thriving in Year 7, to those who are now much older. We look forward to hearing from you!

Update about Trees and Green Spaces

We are currently working on improving the green spaces around our school. This means removing overgrown trees with hazardous roots and deadened branches to make the main route to our school safer for parents to access.

New trees will be planted in their place, with additional planting planned on our school field. We are also developing new landscaping plans for the near future to create a greener, more accessible, and welcoming space for play, sports, and family use.

We are also clearing some trees, bushes, and ivy from the front of the school, which was becoming unsafe and difficult to maintain. This will allow our beautiful school building to be seen clearly from the main road.

We are aware these changes may look quite extreme at the moment, but these areas will regrow over time. A letter with more detail about these changes was sent out yesterday.
